Claire Eby was born and raised in Wichita Falls, TX where she spent much of her time drawing and painting. She then went on to receive her Bachelor’s Degree in Motion Media Design with a minor in Illustration at the Savannah College of Art and Design in Savannah, Georgia. She began her career in design for public affairs as a Motion Design intern at VOX Global in Washington DC. Claire then continued as a full time Designer at FEMA, where she gained a passion for understanding accessibility needs in design. Claire has since moved to Austin, Texas where she now works as a Multi-Media Designer and Video Editor for the Arthritis Foundation and has found Austin to be the perfect place to integrate art and advocacy. She’s looking forward to joining MOVE Texas to invest in expanding access and equity through energizing young folks in the rural and marginalized communities that shaped her. Claire is a digital jack-of-all-trades-master-of-some artist who creates experiences through design, animation, and projection mapping. She’s inspired by title sequences, graffiti, and delicious Texas Kolaches.

KING STREET PATRIOTS IN HARRIS COUNTY: Poll intimidation group formed in response to Obama’s presidential win. They scoured voter rolls in predominantly black parts of Houston and came up with a list of what they called fraudulent registration forms. Group praised by Harris Tax Assessor at the time.

Totally & Very Real

Voting Rights Grim Reaper Himself, Greg Abbott, then Attorney General, had armed agents raid the headquarters of Houston votes and seized everything funded by a federal grant disbursed by Gov. Rick Perry. During this period, they targeted dozens of groups that assist marginalized voters.

Genesis is an artist born and raised in South Texas, in a mid-sized town called Laredo. She graduated from Texas State University with a B.A in Fine Arts and Communications and currently works as a community coordinator in her county. Community and art drive her forward. Growing up in a border town has shaped her and poured over into my work such as incorporating vibrant color palettes, throwing in popular Spanish sayings, and illustrating women defying machismo culture. Color, expression, self-acceptance/self-compassion, empowerment and community is what jer art centers on and she hopes to keep growing as an artist.
